United States Pledges Full Help to King Peter II's New Regime as Berlin Protests Beating of Her Citizens in Capital; Regent Prince Paul is Reported Fleeing to Athens; Turkey Said to Have Proposed Mutual Assistance Pact; No Immediate Indication Regarding Next Move to be Taken by Hitler

MILITANT DEFIANCE IS GREETED IN GERMAN-OCCUPIED FRANCE BY GREAT ENTHUSIASM

By The Associated Press
With a pledge of full United States aid, King Peter II's new military regime was reported to have informed Germany today that Yugoslavia's adherence to the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo alliance was "impossible" and rushed 1,200,000 troops to battle stations.

Events moved swiftly. Turkey reportedly proposed a mutual assistance pact with Yugoslavia as the Turkish minister conferred with Yugoslavia's new Premier Dusan Simovic.

In Budapest, the chief of the Hungarian general staff and army leads conferred with the Nazi-dominated Hungarian government on current problems. "Informed quarters said it was 'not a war council,' however."

German sources in Belgrade said most of the 3,000 Nazi economic experts, newspapermen and trade delegates in Yugoslavia were racing for the frontier or packing for a quick exit.

Yugoslavia's militant defiance of the Axis fanned tumultuous enthusiasm even in German-conquered France. In Marseille, some 10,000 inhabitants streamed through the Place de la Bourse, shouting: "Long live Yugoslavia!"

The spontaneous demonstration grew in volume hourly. High Balkan diplomatic quarters said the cabinet decided in an all-night session to return Yugoslavia to "full and absolute neutrality" because cooperation with the Axis powers was "contrary to the will of the Yugoslav people."

As forecast by Prime Minister Winston Churchill in London yesterday, this was reported to be Yugoslavia's blunt answer to an urgent request—a virtual ultimatum—by Nazi Germany demanding an explanation of the coup d'etat which overthrew Regent Prince Paul's pro-Axis government.

Swiftly following this development, the United States government delivered a note to 17-year-old King Peter's new government promising full aid.

Germany sent an official protest to Yugoslavia—apparently based, however, on the alleged beating of German citizens in Belgrade, the Yugoslav capital, where wildly enthusiastic Yugoslavs shouted in the streets for war and cried: "Down with Germany and Italy!"

Authorized quarters in Berlin said they had no immediate comment. (Turn to Page Six)

R. A. F. BLASTS INVASION PORTS DURING NIGHT

London, March 28.—(P)—The RAF pounded the German industrial centers of Cologne and Dusseldorf with "many heavy bombs" overnight raids extending from the Rhineland to the "invasion ports" of Dunkerque, Brest and Calais on the Nazi-held French coast, the air ministry announced today.

In the war at sea, the Admiralty announced that the submarine "Arcturion" had torpedoed a 6,000-ton supply or troop ship and a 10,000-ton tanker in an Italian-escorted convoy south of Italy.

German daylight raiders touched off an alarm in London this morning, the first since the night of March 20, but three planes headed for the capital turned back apparently without dropping any bombs. (Turn to Page Six)

Bethlehem Strike Ends; Walkout at Cambria

Felled By Police Clubs

Investigation of Conduct of State Police is Asked

Philadelphia, March 28.—(P)—A spokesman for the Philadelphia Industrial Union Council announced today that the CIO organization may ask the state legislature to initiate impeachment proceedings against Governor Arthur H. James because state troopers were sent to the Bethlehem steel strike.

Carl Bersing, an official, said a legislative investigation of the conduct of state police at the Bethlehem Steel Company plant might be sought.

Bersing said "demands for impeachment" were made at a meeting last night by "representatives of the largest unions in the city."

They came, he added, after George Craig, regional director for the CIO, told of the "brutal activity" of those he said were state troopers in the strike.

The council's desires were sent to Speaker of the House Elmer Kilgore and Democratic Majority Leader Leo Achermann of the House.

STATE RESTS CASE IN CHESTER WATER TRIAL

Media, March 28.—(P)—With the commonwealth's case completed, defense counsel made ready to day to open its side in the trial of Chester Water Company.

Former State Senator John J. McWay and six others charged with conspiring to make a secret and politically corrupt profit of $625,000 in the sale of the Chester Water Company to the Chester municipal authority.

The trial resumes this afternoon. After the state rested its case yesterday, James L. Rankin, Chester attorney who instigated the investigation into the transaction, asked the Delaware county court to set aside the entire deal.

RULING IGNORED AT MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, March 28.—(P)—Striking CIO union workers at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. were warned again today that they were to be given their final examinations for induction into the U. S. Army for a year's training under the Selective Service system.

This is the largest single group of selectees to be sent from the county.

Of the number who are leaving tomorrow, 16 comprise the regular quota of the two local draft boards, while the remaining five are replacements for men who were rejected in Pittsburgh on March 10th.

As soon as the current group is sent into service, the two local boards are expected to announce names of those who will be inducted on April 10. Quotas also have been received for a group to leave on April 14 and within a few days it is expected that another quota for the period between April 21 and 30 will be received.

According to an Associated Press dispatch received late yesterday afternoon, Pennsylvania will furnish 2,580 men for induction between April 21 and 30, bringing the total April quota to 8,458 men. The Army previously had called upon the state for induction of 4,158 men between April 1 and 10, and for 1,450 between April 11 and 20. (Turn to Page Nine)

MATSUOKA MUST REACH DECISION ON JAP ATTITUDE

Foreign Minister From Tokyo Reported Under Pressure For Clean-Cut Verdict Regarding Active Participation in the Conflict

TALKS WITH FUEHRER

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Berlin, March 28.—(P)—Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, here for talks with German leaders, must make up his mind whether Japan will enter actively into the fight against Britain or be left to face both her and the United States alone later, informed German political circles today.

The taking of Singapore—key British naval base in the Far East—was mentioned specifically in connection with the subject of Japanese participation in the fight.

If Japan declines to enter the fray at present, a victorious Germany and Italy might later show disinterestedness. In Japan, plights, in the opinion of these circles.

That Japan could realize her ambitions in the Far East only by running into British and American opposition was pointed out.

Twenty-one in County Contingent Leaving Warren Tomorrow For Induction Into Army

Twenty-one Warren county young men will leave here tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock by bus for Pittsburgh, where they are to be given their final examinations for induction into the U. S. Army for a year's training under the Selective Service system.

This is the largest single group of selectees to be sent from the county.

Warren, March 28.—(P)—The board of pardons today took the appeals for freedom or pardon of 64 prisoners and ex-prisoners, three of them serving life.

The board has disposed of two appeals from the electric chair by refusing one and continuing the other, both of them involved Philadelphia's murder-for-insurance cases.

PROPOSAL RATIFIED BY UNION

Agreement to End Four-Day Controversy at Steel Corporation's Home Plant is Reached by the Company and CIO Officials With Understanding That Men Will Get Back to Employment on Defense Orders Immediately

FIVE-POINT PROGRAM IS BASIS FOR PEACE

Bethlehem, March 28.—(P)—A four-day strike at the huge parent plant of Bethlehem Steel ended today and the union, giving unanimous assent to terms on which negotiators previously had agreed, announced workers would return to their jobs "as fast as they can."

The settlement was announced by company and CIO Steel Workers Organizing Committee representatives at 5:30 a. m. EST. The terms were ratified with a roar of "ayes" at a union mass meeting a minute before noon. A management spokesman already had termed the agreement satisfactory.

The SWOC called the strike at 5:30 p. m. Monday following a threat of a walkout should the Employees Representation Plan proceed with a scheduled election of officers and bargaining agents.

The SWOC charged the ERP is company-dominated and illegal and objected to any ERP voting on company property.

Disestablishment of the ERP, originally included in union conditions for strike settlement, was not specifically provided in today's four-point agreement. John V. Riffe, assistant SWOC director, announced "there will be no more ERP elections in the plant" until there is a decision on a court appeal by the company from a National Labor Relations Board order directing it to disestablish the ERP.

Meanwhile, J. J. Coburn, secretary of the ERP, said the ERP election was completed yesterday with 63 departments voting and a large number of votes cast.

Coburn said "we'd be tickled to death if the National Labor Relations Board would come in here and hold an election because we know we have a big majority of the men. It's not up to us to ask it though. That's up to the other fellow."

All pickets had been pulled away from the gates shortly before 10 a. m. State police, however, remained on guard.

Many Appeals Heard by Board

Harrisburg, March 28.—(P)—The board of pardons today took the appeals for freedom or pardon of 64 prisoners and ex-prisoners, three of them serving life.

The board has disposed of two appeals from the electric chair by refusing one and continuing the other, both of them involved Philadelphia's murder-for-insurance cases.

Paul Pettillo, South Philadelphia tailor scheduled to die Sunday night, was refused clemency by the board, and Mrs. Josephine Romauldo, with an appeal before the Supreme Court, will be heard by the board only if the court refuses her plea for a new trial.

The three life terms confined for first degree murders are Gravel Wagner, Westmoreland county; Orville J. Barclay, Philadelphia; and Louis Henry Enke, of Luzerne county.

It was their first appeal for commutation. Wagner has served since 1936, Barclay since 1928, and Enke since 1929.

"ROCK BOTTOM" IN RELIEF ROLLS TO BE 100,000

Col. Philip Matthews Believes New $1,000,000,000 Defense Appropriation Will Improve Employment Conditions in The State

AFFECTS YOUNG GROUP

Harrisburg, March 28.—Col. Philip Matthews, Pennsylvania administrator of the WPA, said today the workers' project rolls would hit a "rock bottom" of 100,000 this year but despite defense production probably would not go below that point.

"I can't see a WPA load of less than 100,000 that ought to be our permanent quota for some time to come," Matthews declared.

He said he thought the new $7,000,000,000 defense appropriation would affect employment in Pittsburgh's steel center largely and that, even so, it probably would not remedy more than four to five thousand workers there.

The April quota of the WPA for this state is 119,000.

Men have been leaving the rolls at the rate of 4,000 a month for 300 in private industry but this pace is certain to slacken, the administrator said.

The ages of many of those now on WPA would be prohibitive to employment, Matthews added. He cited as an example the group of 12,000 women on the sewing project. Their ages average 42 years. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

10,000 Take Part in Marseille Outburst

Marseille, France, March 28.—(P)—Shooting "Long Live Yugoslavia" an estimated 10,000 inhabitants of this city of French refugees poured spontaneously into the Place de La Bourse today where the late King Alexander of Yugoslavia was assassinated in 1934.

The unscheduled demonstration, which grew in volume every hour, came after word was whispered through the city that a new anti-Axis Yugoslav government had been formed.

Early this morning the people began to drop bouquets at the scene of Alexander's assassination and at the monument to the father of Yugoslavia's young King Peter II.

INTERVENTION IN PROTEST LABOR DISPUTES IS CONSIDERED AGAINST ELECTION

"Big Stick" Legislation, Giving Government the Power to Deal With Defense Production Stoppages, is Discussed in Washington

ANSWER TO CRITICS

BY JACK BELL
Washington, March 28.—(P)—"Big stick" legislation, giving the government sweeping new powers to deal with defense production stoppages, was reported today to be under consideration by key congressional leaders.

Responsible quarters described the projected measure as the administration's answer to criticisms that it has failed to curb unnecessary defense strikes.

Enactment of such a law, they added, would give President Roosevelt a "big stick" to enforce decisions which might be made by the new National Defense Mediation Board.

The legislation under consideration, it was said, probably would authorize direct intervention in cases where manufacturers "fail" for any reason at all to carry out defense contracts.

It thus would broaden the existing provision of the selective service act which gives the government the right to take over plants whose owners "refuse" to cooperate in the manufacture of military equipment.

This provision has not been invoked in any production stoppage to date. Advocates of the proposed new legislation said this was due largely to the fact that proprietors of struck plants consistently have contended that they were willing to resume operation but were unable to do so because of conditions beyond their control.

Action to take over plants under the proposed legislation, it was pointed out, automatically would outlaw any strike of employees, since workers then would be placed in the illegal position of striking against the government.

However, federal operation of the plants in those extreme cases where this course became necessary was described by one informed legislator as likely to be more technical than actual, with a change in the existing management depending largely on the operators' ability to work out an equitable settlement of labor problems. United States Conciliation Service Dispatches Mediator by Airplane to Pittsburgh to Watch Developments in Dispute Between CIO and Bethlehem Steel Company Plant Near Johnstown Resulting From Ballot

ORDERS ARE ISSUED TO AVERT PICKETING

Johnstown, April 28.—(P)—CIO unionists, reported by their leaders to number 8,000 of the 15,000 employees, walked out of the seven-mile-long Cambria works of the Bethlehem Steel Company today in protest against an election by a rival bargaining agency, the Employees Representation Plan.

Five hours after the walkout began, James Gent, sub-regional director of the CIO, told a press conference the works was "50 per cent shutdown and 100 per cent closed as to production" of steel. The 15,000 workers are divided among three shifts.

The walkout followed by a few hours the settlement of a strike at the Bethlehem's parent plant at Bethlehem, Pa., and as a threat of a renewal of a strike at the company's Lackawanna, N. Y., plant.

Thomas Lambert, U. S. labor conciliator, and Charles Kutz, state mediator, who sat on the conference that led to the settlement at Bethlehem, Pa., announced there that they would come to Johnstown late today.

Gent predicted, however, the controversy could be "wound up quickly—quicker than the company expects" and said he expected to confer later with management representatives to submit the same four-point program that was accepted for settlement of the strike at Bethlehem.

"The open heart part of the industry is all down and no steel is being made in the plant," said Gent.

Hundreds of the men walked quietly through the gates after the ERP, which had been ordered abolished by the National Labor Relations Board on the ground that it was a company-dominated union, placed ballot boxes in the mills. The election was called to name 60 bargaining representatives for the ERP, which has appealed the NLRB order.

Gent asserted the shutdown was "so complete" there was no voting of pickets. Police reported there were no disorders around the works, scene of bitter fighting during the "little steel" strike of 1937.

As the men left the mills on the outskirts of the city, many went downtown to the headquarters of the CIO's steel workers' organizing committee.

The men, Gent declared, reported they were "sick and tired of this illegal employees representation plan."

Foster Jones, chairman of the ERP committee on rules which had twice postponed the election originally set for Wednesday, Thursday and today, said:

"At 9 a. m. the Employees Representatives Plan again was holding its election, which had been delayed for several years."

Antarctic Expedition Starts Home Leaving Behind Vast Stores of Costly Equipment

Washington, March 28.—(P)—he safe until the next expedition arrives possibly in six weeks. Leaving behind them costly stores of equipment buried indefinitely in the Polar snows, the men of the United States Antarctic expedition, United States Antarctic expedition, departed today after almost two years at the bottom of the world.

Officials in radio communication with the historic cutter Bear, closed that the 26 men evacuated by plane earlier this week were on the expedition's ice-bound east base left behind everything they could not bring out on their backs or in their pockets.

Personal effects, food, sufficient for months, books and scientific equipment were included. All the other funds in addition to two supplies, however, are expected to, propitiations, totalling $521,000.

Original plans contemplated a five or six year stay in the Antarctic for the expedition, but its work was ended prematurely when Congress refused to vote any further funds. (Turn to Page Thirteen)

LIBRARY THEATRE TO-DAY & SATURDAY

"High Sierra"
Humphrey Bogart's appearance in "High Sierra," the picture coming to the Library today and Saturday, establishes a new precedent for a star's presence in a film.

Bogart appears in 207 scenes of the 209 in "High Sierra." His dialogue covers portions of 117 pages of motion picture script. Considered professionally, Bogart's role is the most extensive and continuous in talking film history.

Ida Lupino, who is co-featured with Bogart, runs only a little behind his record in number of scenes and lines of dialogue.

The film "directed" by Roaul Walsh, was adapted to the screen from W. R. Burnett's best-seller by Burnett in collaboration with John Huston.

ACTION PACKED DOUBLE BILL AT THE COLUMBIA THIS EVENING

"Case of Black Parrot"
One of the most spine-tingling mystery films to ever thrill an audience will make its local debut today at the Columbia Theatre when Warner Bros. "The Case of the Black Parrot" opens. The film tells the exciting story of an international criminal called the Black Parrot, whose true identity is not known. His crimes take many forms—anything from counterfeiting masterpieces of art to brutal murder. The film co-stars William Lundigan and Maris Wrixon.

PAST DISTRICT GOVERNORS TO ATTEND AFFAIR

Will Come to Warren April 18 to Attend Dinner and Reception Honoring Mark Smith, President of Kiwanis International

MANY RESERVATIONS

At least five past governors of the Pennsylvania district will be among the distinguished guests who will come to Warren on Friday evening, April 18, when the local Kiwanis Club will entertain Mark Smith, president of Kiwanis International, and Mrs. Smith, of Thomaston, Ga.

Definite word has been received by Harold D. Baker, general chairman of the local committee, that the past district governors will be among those present.

They include Clarence Connor, of Chester; Robert Shephard, of Erie; Herbert Moore, of DuBois; Belmont Mosser, of St. Marys, and Charles Donnelly, of Pittsburgh.

Included also, among those who will be guests of the Warren club, will be Victor Diehm, Hazleton, the present district governor, and Robert Quin, district secretary, also of Hazleton.

With the date for the outstanding affair rapidly approaching, the members of the committee are busy working out details for the party, which will mark the first time in the history of the organization that an international president has visited Division One, of which Warren is a member.

It is expected that a capacity crowd of 300 will attend the dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Smith and that many more will be on hand for the reception and dance which will follow. The program also will include a bridge tea during the afternoon for Mrs. Smith, given by the wives of local Kiwanians.

Indications are that every club in the division will be represented at the affair and that several clubs in neighboring New York state, as well as in other divisions of the state, will send members here.

Retiring Employee Is Guest of Honor At Conewango Club

Jacob A. Leonhart, popular employee of the Conewango Club for many years, who is retiring this week, was honored last night at a dinner given by members of the club.

Harry W. Conarro, president of the club, opened the program which followed the dinner and after a few remarks regarding the faithful service rendered the Conewango Club by Mr. Leonhart, introduced Marshall C. Parshall, chairman of the evening, who delivered the principal address.

Mr. Leonhart was presented with a purse of money as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the members.

LOCAL KNIGHTS HAVE FOUNDERS' WEEK PROGRAM

Fifty-nine years ago this week the organization known as the Knights of Columbus, was organized at New Haven, Conn., with a membership of eleven men. Today the order has spread throughout the United States and its possessions, until there are 2500 individual councils with a membership of more than 420,000.

Warren Council, No. 964, like the other units all over the jurisdiction, fittingly observed Founders' Week last evening at their social rooms on Second avenue, with the exemplification of the first degree to a class of candidates. Following the degree work the grand knight, Dr. J. T. Valone, called upon N. J. Mangus, who outlined the work and growth of the K. of C. since its founding. Rev. M. E. Dailey, pastor of Holy Redeemer church and chaplain of Warren Council, was also on the program, and in his remarks he brought out the wonderful work that has been done by the organization throughout the world in all matters pertaining to the uplift and welfare of the country and its people.

Other officers installed are: High priest, John Reiff; senior warden, Raymond Olson; junior warden, E. A. Gilson; guide, Raymond Yaegle; first watch, Boyd Sanden; second watch, C. R. NEW OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED BY ENCAMPMENT

At the regular meeting of Keesouth Encampment, No. 98, I. O. O. F., held last evening in the Odd Fellows hall, Grover Lind was installed as chief patriarch for the ensuing term, succeeding John Reiff. The installation was in charge of District Deputy Ralph Wilkins.

Other officers installed are: High priest, John Reiff; senior warden, Raymond Olson; junior warden, E. A. Gilson; guide, Raymond Yaegle; first watch, Boyd Sanden; second watch, C. R. Agren; third watch, A. Roger Olson; fourth watch, H. O. Barrett; outside sentinel, F. W. Lauffenburger; inside sentinel, I. F. Samuelson; guard of the tent, Leo Bushey and Raymond Bauer.

Following the meeting a fine pancake supper was enjoyed. The committee in charge was composed of John Reiff, H. O. Barrett, Raymond Yaegle, Carl Bosine, Emil Johnson and Oscar Larson.

DEFENSE LABOR MEDIATION BOARD PRACTICALLY HELPLESS

Washington, March 28.—If you had an idea all labor troubles in defense industries would vanish as soon as the new 11-man National Defense Labor Mediation Board got functioning under the chairmanship of Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, don't hold your breath for this miracle to happen. The millennium of labor peace of any kind will be a long time coming.

This was apparent from the day the board first met to get organized. In addition to going through all the monkeyshines any new government organization must perform—having its picture taken, being shot for the news reels and being told by a caterer in the O. P. M. building when it was time for lunch—the board could accomplish little more than read over the order which created it, and hear from the Department of Labor and its conciliation service as to what existing machinery there was in operation to meet the problem.

No one questions the ability of the N. D. M. B.—a new set of initials for you to remember. Its personnel is of the highest caliber, with labor, industry and the public representatives all giving the deep bow of respect to each other in beautiful gestures of mutual esteem and admiration that auger well for harmonious functioning.

While Chairman Dykstra announced the board was open for business, the fact remains that the board can do nothing about any labor case until that case is officially "certified" to it.

All this means is that the board doesn't know, officially, that there is labor trouble at a plant until Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins passes on the word. There are no side or back doors by which labor or capital or the public can appeal directly to the board and demand that any fuss be settled.

What the board amounts to, therefore, is another top "holding company" if you choose to call it that, erected over the existing National Labor Relations Board and the very effective but small Department of Labor conciliation service now headed by John R. Steelman. When these two have exhausted all their efforts at settling a dispute, they can admit defeat, and turn the case over to the new National Defense Mediation Board, to see what it can make out of the mess.

N. D. M. B. is to operate within the Knudsen-Hillman Office of Production Management. The board gets its money from O. P. M. and it can call on the O. P. M. and Department of Labor facilities whenever needed. Its permanent staff of investigators, masters or deputies to hold hearings will come from O. P. M.

Once a case is certified to the N. D. M. B., its function is simply to get the facts. It can review testimony taken by N. L. R. B. or the Conciliation Service. It can hold hearings of its own, and if it functions like the old War Labor Board, it can split up into

KING PETER II

Many persons are wondering just what manner of man Yugoslavia has at the helm right now in young King Peter II. who will not be eighteen years old until next September. The chap who defied his own regent and other officials in control, as well as Adolf Hitler and the Axis powers, is proving the outstanding figure in the whole Balkan situation at the present time.

From an article written by an Associated Press foreign observer, we learn that King Peter is an attractive boy with a quick smile. He is a big fellow and good all-around athlete who is keen on sports. His training for kingship has been stern, and he long has been rumpling his hair over foreign languages and constitutional and administrative law.

He dislikes wasting time on rambling conversation and is always brief and to the point. He is remarkably free of conceit.

Those who have traveled about Yugoslavia have gained the impression that his people are particularly fond about their king and have been looking forward eagerly to the time when he could assume the throne.

Compared to this description of the king, it is worth noting that Prince Regent Paul, who is reported in flight from Belgrade, whose mother was Russian, hasn't been popular with the masses who haven't looked on him as a real Serb because of his Russian connection. Also, while Paul is forceful and has done his share in war, he is a nobleman of the renaissance, stepped out of the pages of history. Outside his official duties he has lived chiefly in the world of art, literature and music.

SIX HUNDRED CHAPELS

Never before, perhaps, has there ever been such a building program as that just announced by the War Department. It is no less than the building of 604 new chapels in military posts and camps throughout the country at a cost of $12,816,880.

Religious services for Army and Navy men affiliated with various faiths are now held generally in improvised buildings and even in open fields. "Like the church or chapel of the home community," says the War Department, "the Army chapel will be a focal point of influence. In camp it will provide soldiers, their relatives and friends with a comforting point of orientation relating the military environment of the soldier to that of his civilian status."

The American soldier, like the American civilian, is entitled to full opportunity to link himself to a religious faith. The Army in recognizing this and providing for it, builds even deeper and stronger the foundations of America's strength.

DID YOU PAY YOUR $109?

If you're an average American, $109 was your share of the $14,300,000,000 paid in taxes in the year ended June 30, 1940.

If you paid more, the chances are that it was because you received more benefits than the average; certainly it means that under the conditions maintained by our institutions, you have prospered beyond the average.

Americans never paid taxes more cheerfully than they pay them this year. Never before has it been quite so clear that what we get for our tax money, namely, support of those institutions which make the American way of life possible, is precious beyond price.

The recreation building for Company I at Indiantown Gap is badly in need of furniture, such as chairs, tables, radio, piano, etc. Any person having such articles they would like to contribute is asked to get in touch with this office. When assembled here, a truck will be sent from Indiantown Gap. Let's hear from you.

It should be understood that the public is cordially invited to participate in the farewells that are being given the Selective Service contingents that are leaving Warren. Another group is scheduled to board a bus at the terminal Saturday morning shortly before eleven o'clock. Join the relatives, friends and Citizens committee in giving the boys a sendoff.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.—Matthew 14:14.

YEARS AGO IN WARREN

Interesting Items Taken From the Warren Evening Times

In 1921

The opening gun for securing a community building at Sheffield was fired last evening at a meeting held in the Old Fellows building. G. W. Henderson was elected chairman of the committee with P. J. Finerty as secretary. Other committee members are J. G. Cochran, Dr. J. A. Allen, R. L. Johnson, C. R. McNeal and Clyde Elder.

Repeated complaints have been made regarding the use of Conewago avenue as a speedway. Citizens have prepared a petition to be sent to Harrisburg requesting that state police be sent to Warren to stop the nuisance. Some motorists have been speeding down the avenue from 30 to 60 miles per hour.

The warm weather of the past week has started the dandelions and already some have gathered the greens which are considered by some as a spring tonic.

Health Officer R. N. Brown stated today that there are between 75 and 100 cases of whooping cough, chickenpox and mumps in the community.

The Phillips Ice Company will charge 65 cents per hundred pounds for ice this season, this price being the same as last year.

Well-designed plastic planes require at least 25 per cent less power at a given speed than comparable all-metal planes.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. McCoy are spending some time in Lafayette, Ind., where their sons, Frederick and John, are students at Purdue University.

The fact that the street department of the borough is aiding in the unemployment problem is shown because there are now twice as many men on the payroll at this time than is usual during the early spring, there being a total of 44.

Members of the Rotary Club today had the pleasure of witnessing a clever sketch presented by four members of the high school Dramatic Club. Players were Fred Mauter, Lucy Donaldson, Mary Hubley and Rachel Olson.

THE FELLOWSHIP OF PRAYER

"If We Love One Another"
FRIDAY, MARCH 28. "If we love one another, God dwelleth in us." Read I John 4:7-12.

Everywhere the devout are asking where God is—in a world like ours. It is an old, old question. The mocking have asked it in derision: "Where is now Thy God?" The disheartened have asked it in perplexity, "Where is now my God?"

No one answer is enough, nor any answer easy. But John knew this: Wherever love is, there God is. Where the sorrowing mourn their dead in loving tenderness, where parents say goodbye to their children to save them; where affection watches the imperilled, there God is.

Wherever an ethical good-will abides, let Thy love so stir within us in our love of one another, that we may clearly discern Thee and follow Thy ways wholly, knowing that love born of Thee feels "Father," forgive them, they know no burden and "loves without fear." In His name, Who was Thy love incarnate. Amen.

reconciliation; wherever the hurt refuse to hate and compassion forgets enmities, there God is. We do not need to search the skies for God. He is nearer than that: "If we love one another God dwelleth in us."

PRAYER: O Thou in Whom, dwelling in love, we ourselves abide, let Thy love so stir within us in our love of one another, that we may clearly discern Thee and follow Thy ways wholly, knowing that love born of Thee feels "Father," forgive them, they know no burden and "loves without fear." In His name, Who was Thy love incarnate. Amen.

Sheffield Township School Board Gives Statement on Tuberculosis

Sheffield, March 27—In order to more fully inform the citizens of Sheffield about the tuberculosis tests which recently were given the high school students and which next week will be given the grade school students, and also to discredit false and misleading rumors that have circulated about town and may have caused unnecessary fears regarding the T. B. situation, the Sheffield township school board, through its secretary, L. B. Jones, has issued the following statement:

"The medical group and educational group are observing with interest the work of the Sheffield township school district in its campaign in the fight against tuberculosis and, although much has been accomplished, there is much more to be done in an effort to stamp out the disease."

"Tuberculosis strikes chiefly at boys and girls in their teens, although no age group is exempt, and especially those who are known contacts should be examined. The purpose of this campaign as started by the school system was to check on every student because of possible contact, and to pick up early infections of this nature."

"The high school students and school employees were first tested by the Volmer patch test, and all those showing a positive skin reaction were X-rayed. The positive skin reaction does not mean a person has active tuberculosis. It indicates that a person either has a tubercular infection that is healed or has at present such an infection. The X-ray pictures of the chest are taken to enable the physician to know the extent of the disease and to determine what treatment should be followed. Tuberculosis can be arrested if it is discovered early and there is proper cooperation between patient and doctor."

"It is a fitting compliment to the parents of the community to state that the examination included one hundred per cent of all the high school group. It is only through such cooperation on the part of the parents that the purpose of the examination can be accomplished."

"Through the cooperation of the Warren County Tuberculosis Society, the necessary patches have been secured to skin test all grade school children of the township, which will be done within the next two weeks."

"During this campaign many rumors have been circulated concerning the high incidence of the disease in this community. None of these statements can be authenticated, and no definite facts will be known until every X-ray report has been received."

"Much appreciation is extended to Drs. H. V. Beals and R. L. Taylor, to the Warren County Tuberculosis Society, the State T. B. Clinic, the Warren General Hospital and the Community Hospital of Kane for their combined cooperation, for without their able assistance this could not have been carried out so successfully."

"It is hoped that the work done by the schools will be a stimulus to others to help in stamping out this infection locally and elsewhere."

Sheffield, March 27—The question of whether Sheffield should adopt daylight saving time this summer was a chief topic of discussion at this week's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club, held Tuesday noon in Bob's restaurant with C. H. Whittaker presiding. The club plans in the near future to sound out the community-at-large on the question.

Other highlights of the meeting were the welcoming of three new members into the organization by Allan Scully, past president, and the celebrating of J. O. Baynes' birthday anniversary. Those welcomed as new members were William Gallagher, W. D. Dorrian and Dorri Taylor.

Out-of-town guests, present at the luncheon were D. E. Olson, of Titusville, and R. W. Loomis, of Warren.

CHIMNEY FIRES HOME

An overheated chimney in the Hugo Johnson residence, Pratt street, Tuesday afternoon set fire to the second-story floor of the home, inflicting minor damage estimated at slightly less than $50. The fire was discovered about 4:15 o'clock. It was extinguished by the fire department, which had a turnout of 25 members and was out 50 minutes.

REORGANIZE ASSOCIATION

Preliminary plans for reorganizing the Sheffield Welfare Association were formulated at a meeting of a group of the members and other interested citizens which was held Tuesday afternoon in the Sheffield National Bank building.

The organization, formed in early part of the past decade during the height of the depression to conduct welfare and relief work in the community and township, has been dormant since that type of work was taken over by the governmental agencies such as WPA and etc. Business, church, fraternal and the various other civic groups were represented in the membership of the organization during its active years.

It is felt that the organization, made active once more, will be of general help in promoting the welfare of the community and it is with this purpose in view that the organization is being revived. A meeting to complete reorganization of the association will be held in the bank building at 4:30 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon, and all who are interested are invited to attend.

Present at the meeting this week were 21 persons, including holdover officers C. H. Whittaker, chairman; Dr. J. A. Allen, vice chairman, and Mrs. Dora Hoyer, secretary-treasurer.

Capacity Audience Greet Lenten Drama Given by Splendid Cast of St. Joseph Players

The St. Joseph Players scored a real hit last evening with the initial performance of their Lenten drama, "The Mountain" by Marcus Bach, presented to a capacity audience in the school auditorium.

As predicted, "The Mountain" may mean much or little according to its principles. A thoughtful consideration of its plot, its lines and its atmosphere will result in widely differing reactions, with the religious influence dominating even those scenes in which worldly and physical problems are seemingly of prime importance.

There are but four members in the cast, but that reflects in no way upon its excellence. Those four members of the club, cast in particularly difficult roles, give superb performances. Each characterization is of particular importance if the frailties of humans are to be properly emphasized against the background of the Wiedehorn as it dominates the lives and history of the village people at its base and all who come within its influence.

Mrs. A. M. Sobel, of New York, and Mrs. R. C. Young, of Philadelphia, played a 25-rubber match a short time ago against Morris Elis of Philadelphia. The match was supposed to prove the superiority of men or women at bridge. Well, it is true that the men won by 770 points, but right up to the 1320 and last hand either side could have won the match. At the beginning of that hand, both sides were vulnerable and the men were only a couple of hundred points ahead.

One of the most interesting hands in the match was the one shown today, on which Mrs. Sobel and Mrs. Young arrived at a six spade contract. They were off three aces, including the ace of trumps, and you could not blame the boys for doubling.

Unfortunately for the men, the opening lead of the ace of diamonds was ruffed by dummy. A heart ruff put Mrs. Young (North) in, to cash the king of diamonds, dummy discarding a club. Mrs.

PLAN TRAINING FOR GIRL SCOUT LEADERS HERE

A new plan of preparing for their jobs. Girl Scout leaders and other adults in Girl Scouting will be put into operation on April 1, according to Mrs. William Glassman, chairman of the training committee. The plan worked out by the training and organization committees, with Mrs. E. P. Wroth chairman of the latter, has been approved by the Warren County Council.

A combination of home study and conferences with the director will make possible the training of leaders in the interim between formal training courses. Each new leader will be required to complete certain parts of the training before she takes up her duties with a troop.

The new plan recommends that every woman who enters any phase of Girl Scout work shall take a basic course of four hours of training as soon as possible after she decided to become active. This course is open to any person who wants to understand the fundamentals of Girl Scouting and will be offered here in the near future.

Women and girls of 18 who think they will be interested in working with groups of girls between seven and eighteen years of age and who are willing to take training to fit themselves for the job, will be given free training. Girl Scout leaders receive no pay, but such service is the best kind of opportunity to help train future citizens for useful lives in a democracy. Applications for prospective Girl Scout leaders will be received at Girl Scout headquarters, 311 Market street, this afternoon and from two until four on Saturday.

PRE-NATAL CARE

There is no reason why the childbirth mortality rate should be high if essentials of prenatal care are generally understood and practiced.

Parents should be free from disease, and, if every potential parent was absolutely sure on this point, there would be fewer imbeciles, blind babies, deformities and weakness. If tests show infection, much can be done by a competent physician to prevent communication to the unborn child.

During the prenatal period, teeth of the mother and bones of the child should have proper calcium diet or dosage. The mother should be instructed on the importance of the proper functioning of the kidneys.

Many complications of childbirth and pregnancy are particularly amenable to antenatal prevention and correction. Throughout the prenatal period, keep in touch with your doctor, and then follow his instructions.

HEART'S HAVEN

Ruth
Rosemary
Coby

YESTERDAY: The truth is that Mrs. Marbury's impromptu houseparty at Heart's Haven is worried. Nobody believes in ghosts, yet the caretaker insists he has seen them. Nobody believes in sinister murderers, but Ham and Eve have been shot at. Nobody believes in underground doings, yet Brett and Eve find the supposedly dilapidated bathhouse in very good repair. And now Brett and Eve find Lawyer Howe helping his assistant, Jim Droissard, upstairs after an injury.

Chapter 14 Council Of War

"HELLO!" Brett called. "Is anything the matter?"

"Droissard here has had an accident," said the lawyer. "He hurt his arm. I'm afraid it may be broken."

"No," said Jim, "not broke—but it hurts like—" he choked back a word hastily. "Like blazes," he finished.

"But how did it happen?" Eve asked.

"Jim stepped on a broken board in the back porch—he came in that way," the lawyer explained.

"Then caretakers did it," Jim put in. "I looked at that step and it had been saved clear through."

"It doesn't seem reasonable to think that the Jacksons did it," said Brett Rodman thoughtfully. "In a spot like that, they might have got hurt themselves."

"They wouldn't if they knew just where to step," Droissard contradicted quickly. "That isn't the door the Jacksons use most of the time," he added. "They go out through the side door. I came that way only because I was on the other side of the island."

"I do hope your arm isn't broken," Eve said, sounding more distressed than Jim.

"I'll bandage it," the lawyer said, urging his employee up the stairs. Jim Droissard turned to go, but his resentful mumble was clear to them in the hall below.

"Anyway, I tell you it wasn't an accident. It was a fix."

Almost A Quarrel

THERE was a council of war the next morning. As they gathered in the dining room and made a pretense of eating, they eyed one another with some disfavour, with the exception of Brett Rodman, who did not look at anyone at all.

Even Gina's attempts to sound him out on the fact that the plan might yet come—made when the Jacksons had left the room—brought nothing but non-committal answers. Yet when Mr. Howe suggested that they all walk out to the beach, where there might be a small amount of privacy, Brett agreed readily enough.

He was beside Eve as the party walked down to the shore. She did not know whether he had chosen this place by accident or design, and his lack of apparent interest in her, or in any of the company, gave no clue. Instead, he seemed to be studying the house, turning from time to time to glance back at where its gabled charm belied the anxiety they all felt.

The storm had cleared during the night, but there was still wind that ruffled the surface of the water, and slapped the wet branches of the rhododendrons against their faces. But even when Brett, turning unexpectedly, found the wet leaves impossible to duck, he put them aside apparently without a word. His brow was directed, it seemed to Eve, more at the straggling company ahead of them, than at the tangled shrubbery through which they walked. Finally she could no longer stand it.

"Do you hate us so much?" she demanded. "Are we spoiling a sale for you—just because there are so many of us to be frightened? I suppose if only Mrs. Marbury and her niece were here, you could easily have explained away these odd happenings."

He looked at her and, for the first time, Eve saw him off guard. He did not look formidable or even sulky, at the moment. Instead, his expression was as youthfully bewildered as her own might have been.

There was something else, too, in his face—a sudden awareness that she was trying to hurt him that made her almost sorry she had spoken. But the next minute, his face settled into its accustomed stern lines, and he spoke, as usual, without looking directly at her.

"It would be easier to make a sale—as you so charmingly put it—if there were fewer people about. However, I would like to remind you that I am not concerned with the sale. My only interest is in restoring the place as it should be. But of course, you are not interested in this." He stopped abruptly.

"But of course I am," Eve contradicted sweetly. "I'm still waiting for an answer, remember? You said you were not interested in the sale per se, but you can't do the restoration without making the sale, can you?"

"Why not?"

His words were like the flick of a whip and Eve, who had been momentarily ashamed of herself for badgering the man, reverted suddenly to her usual resentment of his manner. She started to explain, belatedly, but his voice cut across her words.

"I can do the decorating even if the King of Siam buys the place. But until Mrs. Marbury decides against it, the place is hers. I'm not worried about whether or not I'll have an opportunity to work on it. There is always a market for a house as beautiful and charming as this one."

Eve tried to think of one devastating sentence, but they were already at the beach, and Mr. Howe was calling them into a tight circle. She could only lift her head in the air and join Gina, as if she'd found Brett tiresome as a companion.

But her mind was busy searching for a possible retort, and she scarcely heard the discussion swirling about her.

She absorbed just enough to realize that each of the men had decided to sit up in the living room for three hours, in order to make sure that there would be no return of the marauder who had shot at her and Ham the night before. The next minute Ham called to his dog and started off down the beach. Gina followed them, leaving Brett, still scowling, sitting alone. Eve forced herself to walk over to him.

"At least," she said coolly, "you might act human. If I thought it took a lot of money to make people friendly and pleasant, I'd certainly be sorry for most of the world. But I've noticed that most people who are pleasant, are that way in spite of their worldly goods. And those who aren't—are just naturally bent on being disagreeable."

It wasn't quite as clear as she wanted to make it, and Brett seemed obviously bewildered by her attack. But Eve, without waiting, walked over to where Julie stood looking out to sea, thinking. Eve knew of the small but comfortable apartment they had left in New York.

Perhaps Brett did not—or would not—understand at the moment. But later, when he thought it over, he would know that she, for one, considered his lofty, contemptuous air completely silly. There was a little satisfaction in that.

"Have you a fever?" Julie inquired absently. "Your color is so high, dear. Perhaps you'd better go to the house and lie down."

"I'm perfectly all right," Eve said with some dignity, feeling that the whole world was against her at the moment. "I just wanted to know if I could borrow your hand mirror. The sun may come out later today, and perhaps I could use some sign of life. I've heard of people doing that."

It had been an inspiration of the moment, but when Julie agreed, and later when she spoke to Gina about the idea, Eve herself became enthusiastic.

About Love

WHEN they returned to the house, the two girls went out on the second-floor porch with the mirror and waited for the sun to appear. It was a fateful day, and the sun, although it appeared, did so occasionally from behind the driving clouds that chased each other across the sky, was a fickle companion.

During the periods while they waited for a favorable moment, Eve hesitantly broached the subject of Hamilton Millard.

"He seemed awfully nice, Gina," she began, feeling that this was a particularly inadequate way to bring up the subject. "He's quiet," she persisted, "but I don't believe anyone in the world ever adored a person as he does you. Honestly—there isn't a minute in his life, I do believe, which he isn't thinking of you, and wondering if he can't make you happy."

"Oh—Ham's a good sort," Gina agreed lazily. "Get set now, Eve. The sun is coming out. Here it is! Ready? Oh—doggone it! There's another one of those mean little clouds."

"You're evading me," said Eve firmly, looking at Gina's silky hair blowing in the wind, and wondering how it was she came to be giving advice to someone whom she would never have dared to speak to a month before.

"I'm talking about Ham," Eve went on, "and you're going to listen. He's a very nice boy, Gina, and if you don't care for him, really the kindest thing you can do is to send him packing. I mean it."

"Mother Wisdom herself!" Gina derided. "This sounds kind of stupid when you put it into words," she hesitated and began over again. "What I mean is, there are two kinds of love, Eve. The way I look at it, there's the kind that usually never happens. It's—sort of wild and adventurous and terribly happy all at once. Then there's the other kind—the kind that mothers always beam about. It's safe and quiet and happy in a way, I suppose."

"I gather you mean that Ham's love is the second kind," Eve said. "And it isn't fair to him."

Eve played with the mirror, feeling very uncomfortable. She did not want to agree with Gina and yet she admitted to herself that she did agree.

"But it isn't fair to Ham," Eve protested feebly. Gina's eyes, however, had lost their dreaminess and her retort was more in her old manner.

"Ham will keep for a while. But before I say yes definitely, I want to know that I can't have the first kind of love. Don't be shocked, Eve. If I do marry Ham I'll have nothing to complain about the rest of my life. But I just want to be sure that I can't have—well, all the glory and high adventure first."

American Milling Industry Backing Plans For Defense

The American milling industry has lined up wholeheartedly behind the plan of the National Research Council and the Federal Government to further national defense by improving the diet of the American people, according to C. G. Goumey, district sales manager of the Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, who was in Warren today.

According to Mr. Goumey, the president of his company, Philip W. Pillsbury, and its director of research, Dr. C. G. Harrel, were among the advisors consulted by the National Research Council in determining the practical application of its findings so that the diet of the American public could be most quickly improved by the addition of vitamin B₁, iron, and calcium acid to flour.

Because of its nationwide milling facilities, Pillsbury Flour Mills Company was able to put enriched flour on sale throughout the United States early in April.

Around New York

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — These bleak March days—as bleak as any we remember in a long while—have been a boon to such writing men as Phil Stong, Carl Van Doren, Max Miller, James Street, and Alan O'Flaherty. The unseasonable weather has helped them forget the sand in their shoes, the loose-fitted urge to be rambling.

As a result, Phil Stong, who holes up at Washington, Conn., during the winter, is ready with a new book—"The Princess." His agent, Harold Matson, tells me it is the story of a self-sufficient woman who takes over the management of a farm in Iowa and in the process, finds that she is more married to her responsibilities than to her husband.

MAX MILLER, who wrote "I Cover the Waterfront," has composed the biography of Reno, Nev., and is now writing the story of Southern California. Miller is a tall, unassuming man in his thirties who lives in a beach house, gathers his own driftwood and shuns the frivolities of life.

He has noted a strange drift in the "new" California. Previously, people moved to California to find a new life, a new world, a new land. Now, with the defense industries booming, they go not to retire but to work and in many cases to begin anew. Even the architecture of the state has been influenced by these shifting tides in population. The old, stately bungalows, in the population centers there are housing projects. It looks like a new chapter in the story of California.

There apparently continues the demand for as much factual material as fiction. James Street, a curious sort of southerner who calls Connecticut home—"I'll be home by the first of June," he writes—is in the deep south, on the Mississippi, working on a story of the Delta. He has just completed a long novel, "In My Father's House."

AS FOR Van Doren—the word around town is that a new manuscript of his will throw more light on the American Revolution than anything published in a generation. He has obtained the personal files, hitherto unseen, of Sir Henry Clinton, a British commander, which show that every major figure in the American army was tempted to betrayal but that Benedict Arnold was the only man of consequence who yielded. It is said that Van Doren's book will unmask various local "heroes" who are remembered as patriotic but who actually were in the pay of the British and Tory forces.

Frank van Wyck Mason interrupted his work on "Rivers of Glory" twice in a week to run up from Baltimore for speaking engagements. Once he spoke on historical novel and the change in the ways of writing them that has come about in the last generation. In a nutshell, Mason's remarks add up to this: In the old days all villains were black and all heroes chaste and pure. This is no longer the case. Modern authors are for realism—try to make characters human.

On Mason's other trip to Manhattan his talk centered around three of his former novels—all murder mysteries—that are now being brought out under one binding bearing the title "Military Intelligence-Eight."

More workers will be needed as production for defense increases. Workers should register with the local State employment office.

Satisfaction over Matsuoka's visit at a time of "decisive battle" against England was voiced by German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop last night at a reception for the Japanese statesman and his staff in the Esplanade Hotel.

Matsuoka, who had his first talk with Adolf Hitler yesterday was introduced to a large gathering of Nazi political and military leaders. Also present were ambassadors and ministers from the various countries allied with the Axis—including the Yugoslav minister Ivo Andric.

Approximately 50 union leaders will attend the Monday meeting, Lewis said. Making up the union's "scale committee," it includes executives of the 12 union districts in the Appalachian area and 11 miners.

Meanwhile, the labor management conference went into their 11th day of negotiations and again devoted their discussion to the principal question—whether the 330,000 miners in the area would receive a $1-a-day increase demanded by the union.

The board can appoint its own field force and send its investigators out to get its own facts, but the board has no power of subpoena and cannot compel any boss or any labor union leader to appear and give testimony. All the order creating the board says is that "it is the duty of both parties" and, they "should" cooperate in the process.

Once the board has made its own investigation, all it can do is report on the facts and make them public with its recommendations about these recommendations, and lay in its own authority in the labor union, and the board has no power of subpoena and cannot compel any boss or any labor union leader to appear and give testimony. All the order creating the board says is that "it is the duty of both parties" and, they "should" cooperate in the process.

equivalent of orders, but if either management or labor wants to get stubborn, there is nothing the board can do to make either or both conform. All this dickering will take time, and in that there is an equivalent to a cooling off period so much in demand. Even with this, there is plenty of congressional feeling that the board has no authority, and if complied with, you may see proposals for new legislation to give the board authority with real—not false—teeth. As it stands, there is only one possible last chance to make a board recommendation stick. That is the authority granted to the President in the selective service act and the old national defense act, to seize industries for government operation and to draft defense industry labor by taking away its deferred classification. Any union or employer that isn't inclined to comply with a board recommendation might find itself slapped into government service. Once again, the real power has been retained in the White House.
